impressed by its features. I currently have a mobile version of my site which is made with a PHP MVC framework. I was hoping JQuery would integrate into JQuery Mobile seamlessly because of its mobile-like design. I haven't been able to find any documentation on how to make this happen. Does anybody know how this works? A: First of all, I was recently introduced to JQuery Mobile is a first good sign, it means you have read some doc, and get to know how jquery mobile work. I was hoping JQuery would integrate into JQuery Mobile seamlessly because of its mobile-like design. This sentence is very interesting, it tells you what you are trying to do is not something that's planned to be done. I haven't been able to find any documentation on how to make this happen. This sentence, combined with the first one, would explain why you are having this issue, JQuery mobile use three key part, jquery, jquery mobile, css, to create a great user experience for webapp. By default JQuery Mobile uses jquery, and in order to use it, you must add the jquery and jquery mobile references at the beginning of your html file (I assume your html page are inside a file named main.html). Now when you want to create a mobile page, you use the jquery mobile page tag. Each jquery mobile page will have its own 82157476af
